Twenty Knights from Starkville's Saint Joseph parish spent a hot October day erecting over 120 crosses to promote the protection of life. "Each cross represents one of 154 abortions that happens every hour in the United States." On this particular hot October day, the ground was so hard that electric drills were needed to drill holes into the ground to hold the crosses. However, the work and sweat that these men offered would be priceless if their efforts saved the life of one child.
